

Chella Textiles' Sustainable Fabrics

Chella Textiles' Meander, Lateral and San Marco fabrics are woven of 100% polyolefin that is both produced from recycled materials and recyclable. Like all fabrics from this luxury performance textiles innovator, these eco-friendly offerings are machine washable, lightfast and resist stains, mold and mildew.

These three designs are woven from yarns produced from fiber that begins as a by-product of the petroleum refining process made from 100% post-industrial materials otherwise slated for incineration. Unlike polyester or nylon yarns, they are manufactured at energy-conserving low temperatures and produce minimal by-products.

The fiber is inert and its stain-resistance and other performance characteristics are inherent, so no special finishes or chemical treatments are necessary in the weaving process.

So recyclable are these 100% polyolefin fabrics, they can be re-extruded up to ten times. Their incineration produces more usable heat energy and the smoke produced is merely that of burning wood.

Meander, Lateral and San Marco typify the livable luxe that has defined Chella Textiles for the past decade. Stunningly designed and meticulously woven, Chella textiles are available through interior designers and Chella's international showroom network.
